

(Weekly Departures)

Discover the Highlands of Papua New Guinea. For those who have been already to beautiful beach resorts and wish to experience something different, discovering the Highlands of Papua New Guinea would be the choice.

The Highlands is a vast area and is the interior of Papua New Guinea. The highlands people and their customs and traditions are different to the coastal people. The towering mountains, valleys, gorges, the mass rainforest, the rivers and the cool pleasant climate makes travel in the highlands a pleasant experience.

The landscapes and views from highest peaks are panoramic.

The highlands hold the most unique cultures of Papua New Guinea. Cultural performances are colorful and most traditional. This is where the country's majority of the population lives. Traditional activities are daily event in the highlands and ceremonies such as bride-price payment, compensation ceremonies and others can be witnessed as you travel along.

The highlands people live on subsistence farming. You will witness women manning their gardens as a daily activity. Large plots of land cultivated for growing vegetables for consumption. Fresh fruits and vegetable grown in the highlands are in markets and supermarkets in most major centers.

The country's tea and coffee are grown and produced in the highlands. Factories and plantations are scheduled for visit while on the tour.

Experiencing the interior of Papua New Guinea (the Highlands) can be a real experience. And when you leave the shores of PNG, you will testify and say, "Yes, I did visit the inner core of Papua New Guinea".
